

Merry Christmas!

Dear Friends,

It's the most wonderful time of the year indeed! This season reminds us of the joy, generosity, and hope we have in Jesus. As Christmas approaches, my heart is full of gratitude for the light He brings into the world and for the light He continues to shine through The Light House Recovery Center.

Looking back on this year, I clearly see God's fingerprints. I see Him in the women who arrived overwhelmed by fear and trauma yet found safety, dignity, and hope. And I see Him in you. Your generosity, prayers, and support keep this center standing as a sanctuary for women ready to rebuild their lives.

This year, we witnessed stories only God could write!

We saw Ambryana step out of a life impacted by rejection, manipulation, and a federal prison sentence and into a new future.
When she came to us, she carried deep wounds. With support in recovery, mental health, employment, and housing, she has found her footing and is now sharing her story of hope with others.

We watched Tricia arrive frightened and pregnant, searching for stability.

Along with recovery services, we supported her entrepreneurial dreams.

Today, she is a business owner, raising her son independently, and working toward home ownership while living in our transitional housing.

And we celebrated Whitney, who once felt paralyzed by anxiety and unsure how to navigate adulthood. At Light House, she learned practical life skills and faced her fears one by one. Today, she is joyfully married, raising two beautiful children with a third on the way, and giving back as a grateful alumna.

These stories, and so many others, remind us why we exist. They show what happens when a woman is given love, safety, structure, and Christ-centered support. Her future changes. Her family's future changes.

And none of this would be possible without you!

As we close out the year, I invite you to join us again in this sacred work. Your year-end gift directly fuels the counseling, classes, housing, recovery care, and daily support that make transformation possible. When you give, you become part of a woman's redemption story. You become the reason she gets a second chance.

This Christmas, please prayerfully consider making a special gift to The Light House Recovery Center by scanning the QR code below. Your generosity ensures that every woman who comes seeking help finds a place of refuge—a place where healing begins and Jesus is honored.

From my heart to yours, thank you for believing in this mission. Thank you for loving our women. And thank you for helping the light continue to shine.

Merry Christmas,
Vikki Luna, Founder & CEO
