W.I.N. "What's Important Now?"

This powerful acronym, shared by one of my mentors, has transformed how I manage my time and prioritize my life. I'm incredibly grateful for the mentors and countless individuals who've shaped my personal and professional journey. My day job, while a standard 9-5, is deeply intertwined with my everyday life. I take my responsibility to each LadyBUG who comes through our doors to heart, always carefully focusing on what truly matters—our W.I.N.s.

For anyone feeling overwhelmed, it's okay to lighten your load, but sometimes, these challenges are given to us by God and are meant to strengthen us. Recently, I've taken on caring for my father's changing medical and housing needs. In these eight months, I've been blessed with extra time, energy, patience, and wisdom, all gifts from the Lord. His grace is our strength, reminding us that we are never given more than we can handle. Identify your W.I.N.s, thank Him for the grace given, and march on!

Meeting the Mark

We just celebrated our graduates with a heartfelt crowning ceremony, honoring nine incredible women who conquered our challenging course. With over 100 guests, the air was filled with joy—bouquets, crowns, and tears of happiness made each graduate feel deeply valued and supported. It was incredibly moving to watch our staff and volunteers see the impact of their heartfelt efforts. Every donation, every hour spent, and every prayer truly makes a difference.

This ceremony marks not an end but a new beginning for these women. We're excited to continue supporting them through monthly gatherings, transitional housing, and family support. Keep an eye on our Facebook page to watch them flourish.
